Council Meets in Regular Session

At a regular meeting of the City Council last night Mr. W. O. Hinton and Mr. C. E. Butler were sworn in as new members. The regular routine of business was transacted. The report of the City Collector and City Treasurer was accepted. At the suggestion of Mayor Hinton a committee was appointed to draft resolutions in respect to the deceased Clerk, Mr. A. C. Adair, which are as follows:

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

December 8th, 1910.
Whereas, It is with deepest regret that this body receives the information of the death today, of Mr. A. C. Adair, who for a number of years has filled the office of City Clerk.

Former Paris Boy Ill at Annapolis.

Allen Ashbrook, son of Mrs. T. Earl Ashbrook of Lexington, formerly of Paris, is ill at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., suffering with an attack of typhoid fever. Mr. Ashbrook was taken ill Saturday. He is a member of the class of 1913.

According to information received from Annapolis this week he is doing as well as could be expected and is not thought to be seriously ill.

Some time ago it was given out at the academy that the cases were the direct result of an attempt of two cooks of the institution to "get even" with a superior officer, and they put something in the food that caused the illness of many students. Mr. Ashbrook's case is said to have resulted from this source. The school is suffering from an epidemic, there being twenty-nine cases of typhoid in the hospital.

Only Small Gain in Population.

The population of Kentucky as revealed by the recent census is 2,289,905, a gain of about 6.6 per cent. The information leaked out of the Census Bureau at Washington and was ascertained through a confidential source by a prominent business man of Louisville. In 1900 the State's population was 2,194,174.

According to the census of this year the county of Bourbon has a population of 17,462, which is a loss of 607 since 1900, when the count showed 18,069. Seventy-nine counties in the State showed a gain in population and forty counties lost in population.

Big Sale Event.

Paris is witnessing one of the largest and most successful removal sales ever attempted here. Perhaps no similar effort has created as much interest as this sale which is now going on at the store of Mitchell & Blakemore.

The firm of Mitchell & Blakemore is one of ultra conservatism and this sale is being conducted along the usual honest and high plane of doing business. As it is the intention of this concern to move into their new quarters about the middle of January, they are desirous of reducing their stock to about half of its present size.

This sale started Wednesday, November 30 and will positively close Saturday, December 10.

Remember the clerks above all others during the holidays, not in the way of gifts but by making your Christmas purchases early in order to save them many tiresome hours behind the counter which could be easily remedied by buying early.

Think of the girl clerk undergoing the tortures of standing behind the counter from early morning until late at night performing the duties that are assigned to her and picture yourself in her position. There is nothing she would appreciate more than a few hours of rest at the last moments for Christmas buying.

Christmas shopping should be done early to obtain the better values and most select presents. Buy your Christmas presents early—early in the day and early in December. That will be the biggest gift to the workers behind the counters and on the delivery wagons.

Lose One Congressman.

The census returns make it almost certain that the State of Kentucky will lose one member of Congress, and there is a possibility that Kentucky will elect only ten Congressmen from the State-at-large [in 1912. Congress is disposed to pass over the fixing of the unit of appointment to the next Democratic Congress and unless the State Legislatures gets the unit in time to redistrict the State before the election of 1912 the Kentucky Congressmen that year will run from the State-at-large

No Quorum at Tobacco Meeting.

No business was transacted at the meeting of the district board of the Burley Tobacco Society Tuesday afternoon in Lexington, as there was not a quorum present.

Only seventeen out of the fifty-four members responded to the roll call, the eight members of the executive committee and nine other members of the district board being those who answered present. The meeting was therefore adjourned as nothing could be done.

The board of control of the Burley Tobacco Company also met but as the members of that board are practically the same as the Burley Tobacco Society nothing could be done at that meeting either and it was accordingly adjourned as soon as the roll had been called.

Suit Against Illinois Central.

By direction of the State Auditor and upon proof furnished by Inspector Noel Gaines, suit has been filed in the Franklin Circuit Court by the State against the Illinois Central railroad for back taxes for the past five years, amounting to $511,719. The petition charges that the reports made by this road to the Auditor for the purpose of fixing the franchise value were fraudulently made and omitted certain sums that should have been included in the net income. The petition alleges that the Illinois Central made a fraudulent report of the entire system when their books showed an entirely different statement as to amounts.

Every consumptive uncured for is a public danger. Yet only one tenth of the cases are in the hospital and sanatoriums of the country. That means that nine tenths of the victims are fighting the dread enemy in their homes, either intelligently or otherwise. But in both classes there is tremendous need for help.

The plan of the Christmas Seal inaugurated in this country by the Red Cross means a great recruiting to the army already enlisted to battle with the plague. It is good fighting, for it shoots straight at the mark. It means a certain cure for many who would have gone uncured, because the pennies and the dollars spent this season for seals will be transformed speedily into life saving milk and egg.

Above all, the plan is admirable because it is educational—because it will help to teach both old and young that it is the duty of one and all to help lift the burden of tuberculosis which weighs upon the whole community. Those are the practical material merits of the Red Cross Stamps. But there is another side. Those little "Merry Christmas" squares are gifts that not only will do good, but will do the giver good. Each of us will be enriched by what is given.—Philadelphia North American.

Sample Helps Frail Women

So many women are dragging out weary lives just because their digestive organs are weak. The result is poor circulation, nervousness and the verge of invalidism. It is often very unnecessary and the woman's own fault.

The first thing to do is to look to the welfare of your bowels. There the trouble usually lies. All physicians know that a large percentage of women are habitually constipated, and from this results indigestion, piles, weariness, etc., that women constantly complain of. But there is no use taking "female remedies" and things of that kind until you have started your bowels to moving. You will find that when the bowels move regularly once or twice a day all your petty ills will disappear. Take a good, mild laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for awhile and you will find yourself rapidly getting better and stronger, your bowels will regulate themselves and work at stated times, and then your headaches and dizziness will disappear. Do not take strong cathartic pills or salts, but just such a mild and pleasant-tasting remedy as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

You can obtain a bottle of your druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, and either size may be enough to permanently cure you. Thousands of women keep it regularly in the house and will no longer be without it as it cures them and can be used with safety by every member of the family, down to the youngest child, but if you have never used it take the advice of Mrs. Earl A. Cox, 409 Twenty-fifth street, Moline, Ill., and Mrs. Ellen Dungan, Muncie, Ind., and send to Dr. Caldwell for a free trial bottle, as they did, and learn for yourself what it will do in your own case. That it will cure you, as it did them, there is no doubt.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address in Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

LESSONS IN PIG FEEDING

The average market hog should weigh 300 pounds at eight months of age. For the pig two to six months old protein is the most important feed. Without protein it cannot build up the lean meat or grow to any size. Protein is found in skim-milk, clover and alfalfa. Corn is nine-tenths carbohydrates, oats have a little more protein than corn, but not sufficient for the pig. Rye contains a little more protein than corn. Barley is one of the best feeds on the farm; it contains more protein than does rye. Even if you have corn and clover it is still necessary for the young pig to have some protein food—cow peas, soy beans or Canada field peas. There is nothing better grown on the farm to balance up the ration.

Rape is bulky feed for fattening and it is necessary to use some nitrogenous feed with it. If you feed clover hay in racks the pigs will not eat as much of it as if it were chopped up as finely as possible, scalded with steam and mixed with the slop. You can buy middlings, low-grade flour; it has protein, but not enough. Tankage, meatmeal and bloodmeal are very much richer than shorts. Perhaps the most concentrated nitrogenous feed we have is tankage. It was found by test that 60 per cent tankage contained about 45 per cent of digestible protein. There is danger of feeding too much protein it is worse than feeding too little.

During the last two months of the feeding period carbohydrates or fattening feeds are of greater importance. We must use feeds that are digestible, like corn, wheat, flour or middlings, but bran is practically indigestible for the pig. Oil cake contains as much protein as middlings and ranks with meatmeal, bloodmeal or oilmeal; the last is perhaps the better because it contains much ether extract.

It is much better to mix feeds than to feed corn to pigs at one time and something else at another time. Otherwise the pigs are liable to get too much of the protein feed, lose their appetite for corn and become stunted for their lives.

Nine lots of pigs were fed in an Illinois experiment station by Professor Dietrich. He gradually reduced the feed of two lots of young pigs until he had taken away just half of the ration, and then they were making twice the gain they did before. Lots 5 and 6, which were fed according to the old scientific feeding standard, weighed 270 pounds at nine months of age, while the two lots fed by Professor Dietrich's method averaged 298 and 305 pounds, respectively. How was this done? By holding the pigs down at the beginning, by feeding less protein. The gains were not only larger, but the gain at the close was made off of cornmeal, which is a cheaper feed. If allowed to do so pigs will eat too much protein at first and that will keep their weight down forever afterward. This is a valuable result, but one must be careful not to misinterpret it. The more common error is to feed too much. Professor Dietrich's experience gives no sanction whatever to the attempts to raise hogs on corn and water.

These pigs in lot 1 were started in the experiment when they were three months old, weighing 50 pounds, and were fed until they were nine months old, making a gain of 20 pounds; they had carbohydrates. The pigs in lot 2 were fed the same as in lot 1 on carbohydrates in the form of corn, and had mineral matter in the form of air-slacked lime, charcoal, ashes and a few loads of dirt. They gained 70 pounds. The pigs in the remaining lots had protein in addition to the mineral matter. The pigs in lot 3 weighed 240 pounds. This bunch were fed straight corn on clover pasture and they made a gain of 2½ times that of lot 2.

Pigs can be overfed on skim-milk. In a recent Illinois experiment pigs which were fed three times a day made larger and more economical gains than pigs that were fed twice, but the former were not given all they would eat each time.

The experiment shows that a two-month-old pig will not weight much over 30 pounds; at three months, 50 to 60 pounds. At five months of age the pig has gained 50 pounds in about three weeks; at seven months he weighs about 250 pounds and has put on 150 pounds of pork in three months. It takes two months to put on the next 50 pounds and the pig gains only 50 pounds from nine to twelve months of age.

School Farms in Italy.

More and more attention is being devoted in northeastern Italy to the scientific development of the country's possibilities in agriculture and as a source of supply of timber. Every school of agriculture in Venetia has adopted with success the plan of having a large experimental farm for practical instruction, and a report to the British Foreign Office from our counsel at Venice speaks of the results of this and other progressive measures. — Manchester Guardian.

"You haven't much of a memory for dates," said the conversational boarder.

ONE YANKEE ECONOMY.

The Dutiful Son Was Carrying Out His Father's Teaching.

In St. Louis there is a Yankee who settled in the Mound City after the civil war, and has there built up a fortune of millions. The economies and conservatism by which he has accumulated his little pile have increased with his years. Acquisition has become a habit.

He has one son over whose expenditures he keeps careful watch. Recently, this offspring took an uptown car. The father who saw him board the car, and knew his destination, judged he had spent his fare foolishly.

That evening, after dinner, the elder called the younger man into the library, saying he had something to tell him. "But first," he interrupted, rising from his chair, "I will turn down the light; we can talk just as well in the dark, and it will save the gas." He then proceeded to give reasons why the expenditure of the uptown car fare was unnecessary. As he went on explaining the value of economy, out of the darkness where his son sat he heard a fumbling and shuffling. Much to his distaste, the noise continued. At length heated to impatience, he cried, "Sam, what are you doing?" "Father," came from out of the blackness, "I can hear just as well without 'em, and, while we're sitting here in the dark, I'm taking off my trousers to save 'em."

For the rest of that evening economies were not discussed.—Success.

Deacon's Family Party Ancient.

The presiding elder once happened into the Sunday school room in a certain church not far from St. Louis, and was invited by the superintendent, a very pious man, to question the scholars.

After asking several questions he turned to one little fellow and asked, "Who was the father of Zebedee's children?" The boy much confused, made no reply, and the question was repeated, but without result.

"Come," said the elder, "you can surely answer that." Then, pointing to the superintendent, "Who is that man?"

"Deacon Smith," replied the boy. "Well, who is the father of Deacon Smith's children?"

"Deacon Smith."

"Yes; and if Deacon Smith is the father of Deacon Smith's children, who was the father of Zebedee's children?"

The youngster could hardly wait till the question was ended before he shouted triumphantly, "Deacon Smith."—Judge.

Well Defined.

A servant at a well-known gentleman's house much astonished the family minister, who had called to make inquiries on the occasion of the birth of a child.

"Is it a boy?"

"No, sir."

"Oh! a girl?"

"No, sir."

The inquirer gasped, and the servant continued with dignity: "Madam has given birth to an heir."—Sketch.

What he gave.

Mr. Quiverful—Tommy, did you give your little brother the best part of that apple, as I told you?

Tommy—Yes sir, I gave him the seeds. He can plant 'em an' have a whole orchard! — Cleveland Leader.

Wronged.

Mose Mokeby—No, sah, I ain't no prognostic er infiddle—I've simply bin druv away from de church, dat's all.

Taking Precautions.

Landlady of country inn on the eve of a popular holiday to her daughter, who is kneading the dough for a cake:—Resel, you'd better put a couple of eggs and a bit of butter into the cake. It looks as if we were going to have a storm, and if the townsfolks don't stir out to-morrow we shall have to eat it ourselves.—From the German.

They Were Shown.

"I see that a Kansas bank cashier embezzled $20,000 and spent it all for drink."

"He must have shown the effects."

"If he didn't the bank accounts did."

The Christmas Carol

"Fear not," said he (for mighty dread Had seized their troubled mind):
"Glad tidings of great joy I bring
To you and all mankind."

And who would forget the swing of melody, and the charity taught in "Good King Wenceslaus looked forth On the least of Stephen."

He saw the beggar gathering fuel in the snow that lay "round about," and calls to his servants to bring him robes and wine and to fetch the poor man in from the cold.

In the rural districts the nature-festival lived long after the church had taken the feast. There were remains of tree worship and sacrifice to Pomona in Cornwall as late as 150 years ago. The peasants used to go into the orchards on Christmas day with pailfuls of elder and roasted apples. The health of the trees was drunk to song, and libations poured upon the roots. In various sections of northern Europe it is the custom to decorate trees out of doors. The fir trees as evergreens, and fruit trees for their promises, were trimmed with long streamers of ribbon or paper.

The Christmas tree finds its ancestor in the German ash Yggdrasil, a great tree whose top reached to Walhalla, the home of the gods, and whose roots were fast in the earth.

The Germans have a wealth of carols, but nearly all are of a religious nature.

"Oh, Tannenbaum! Oh, Tannenbaum," or the song of the fir tree at Christmas time, has become world-wide. Who could count the households that gather around the tapeworm lighted and the tree loaded with gifts to sing this in unison.

In the English household the song is:

"Gather around the Christmas tree, Ever green has its branches been It is king of all the woodland scene."

Or it may be: "Carol, brothers, carol, Carol joyfully, Carol for the coming of Christ's nativity."

The good old custom of singing from house to house on Christmas eve has crept across the water from England to America. It was a part of the program of the season to learn these carols and to gather in bands, going from house to house across the snow and singing before the doors. The neighbors knew they were coming, preparing cakes and warm drinks, and sometimes gifts of money. Whoever has heard "God rest ye, merry gentlemen, let nothing ye dismay," sung heartily in the frosty air has a thrill and an experience that returns to him every Christmas after.

But we must not think that England or Germany sing all the carol music. France had a quaint literature of its own. Here is one of Nowell, or Noel, and from north to south there are delightful variations of it:

"Nowell, nowell, nowell, nowell, This is the salutacyon of the angell Gabryell, Tydings true ther be cum neu sent, frome the trynyte, Be gabryell to nazareth cety of galile. A clene maydyn and pure virgyn, thorow her humyltye, Hath conceybyd the person secound in delte."

Pere Noel comes down the chimney and gives gifts just as Father Christmas does across the channel, and the little French children sing: "Noel, Noel, Noel, Noel singeth clear, Holpen are all folk on earth Born is God's son so dear."

L. M. McCauley.

A Christmas Prayer

GOD, our Father, the shining stars of the cold December sky remind us again of the patient mother and the rock-bewn manger in lowly Bethlehem where lay cradled Thy Love for the world. In the shadows of the silent stall we stand beside the Child and praise Thee for Thy best great gift to sinful men. Speak to our souls as we wait. Let the sweet, loving, trusting spirit of the Child steal into our lives until it calms all weak and anxious fears and soothes all bitterness and pain. In willing surrender and holy longing let us take the Christ Child into our hearts, that henceforth we may live as He lived, love as He loved, and follow in His footsteps, bringing help to the needy, courage to the weak, comfort to the sorrowing, hope to the downcast, and strength and love to all. Grant that the spirit of loving kindness may so prevail among us and among all people that those who know Thee not, shall be gathered into Thy fold and kingdom.

Come hither, ye faithful; Triumphantly sing; Come, see the manger, Our Saviour and King! To Bethlehem hasten, With joyous accord! Oh, come ye, come hither, To worship the Lord!

Capri apri defero, Reddens laudes domino. The Bore's head in hand bring I. With garlands gay and rosenary; And I pray you all sing merrily, Quis estis in convivio.

The church of the early days had some of the wisdom of modern social service. It entertained its parishioners in a worldly way as well as in instilled religious doctrine. The mystery, miracle plays and mummeries enacted under the direction of the clergy rehearsed the scene in the stable. These plays gave rise to a number of legendary carols. The "Cherry Tree Carol" was popular in London in the last century. It related the story of the Virgin begging Joseph to pluck some cherries for her, and when he refusing, the unborn babe speaks and tells his mother to reach out her hand and the tree will bow before her, and the carol goes on to say:

"Then bespake Joseph, I have done Mary wrong," etc. Another carol of this time is full of beautiful imagery.

"As Joseph was a-walking, He heard an angel sing— The night shall be born, Our heavenly king: He neither shall be born In house nor in hall, Nor in the place of Paradise, But in an ox's stall," etc.

This is in the same spirit as our familiar:

"While shepherds watched their flocks by night All seated on the ground, The angel of the Lord came down And glory shone around."

FUTURE PROBLEMATIC.

No Joy in Blue Grass League Over the Prospects for the Next Baseball Season.

CLUBS ARE IN DIRE STRAITS

No Relief in Sight Unless the Interest in the Game Can Be Again Revived.

The future of the Blue Grass League seems problematical. Not since the organization took its place among the minor leagues have the clubs been in such dire straits as they are at the present time.

The Blue Grass League has been in existence for three years, but unless there is a change from the conditions now existing, the coming season will be about the last as it is clear upon the face of the matter that it is on its last legs.

The season of 1910 was a disastrous one from a financial as well as other standpoints. Not a club in the league came out at the end with a surplus in the treasury and most of them lost money. The close of the season found Richmond with a debt of about $3,000 hanging over the club, and at a recent meeting of the directors it was decided to sell the park of that city to raise funds with which to meet the indebtedness.

Frankfort, too, suffered a like fate. No club in that city has never made any money and those who financed the club last year came out with a short purse. It will be a hard matter to get someone to pilot the club next season and pocket the losses. It was reported that President Thomas of the Winchester Club would sell the franchise of that club but now nothing is known of his intentions.

Lexington and Paris came out about even on the season past, but only through the sale of players to higher clubs, which made it possible for them to meet the indebtedness incurred.

Maysville, which took over the Shelbyville franchise after the club had played to an enormous loss, is the only organization in the league that has any prospects for the coming season. That is due to the fact that organized base ball is new in that city and the fans are jubilant over the prospects for a winning club.

With these conditions existing it is difficult to draw any other conclusion than that the Blue Grass League will make its exit unless there is a miraculous change in sentiment for the game during the coming season.

Howard Camnitz, the Houstonville, Ky., boy, who two seasons ago gave such valuable assistance to the Pittsburgh club in winning the National League pennant, will probably become a member of the Cincinnati Reds next season. Camnitz was on the carpet before the Pittsburgh management last year for insubordination and claims to have been mistreated by the management. Fred Clarke of the Pirates will probably trade him to the Reds.

Mack Allison, "The Pride of Owensboro," and star twirler for the Richmond Pioneers during the latter part of 1910, is reported to have signed with Memphis in the Southern League for next season. Allison was one of the best boxmen in the Blue Grass League and if the Memphis manager can keep him steady he will be a star in the Southern League.

While out sleighing Wednesday afternoon Mr. J. U. Boardman met with a painful injury as the result of his sleigh being overturned. The accident occurred at the corner of Fourteenth and Main streets. The sleigh runners catching in the street car track, overturned the vehicle throwing out the occupant. The horse Mr. Boardman was driving took fright when the sleigh was overturned and ran away demolishing the vehicle. Mr. Boardman suffered several bruises and is now confined to his home. Stanley After Steel Trust.

Representative Stanley, of Kentucky, at Washington announced his resolution requesting information from the Attorney General of the United States Steel Corporation and demand an investigation. The Stanley resolution was formally reported by the House judiciary committee at the last session in the face of the opposition of the Attorney General.

The Attorney General replied that at that time he could not grant the information desired, leaving an inference that the Department of Justice was not foot after the steel trust and that the efficiency and secrecy of the Department of Justice would be impaired by making a statement giving to Congress the facts then in the possession of the Department of Justice.

Mr. Stanley last year offered a resolution providing for an immediate investigation by the House of Representatives. This resolution was reported to the rules committee, Samuel Comptons and other labor leaders appearing before the committee in its behalf. Owing to the fact that Congress was about to adjourn this committee took no action. This resolution will be taken up by its author at the earliest possible moment and the rules committee will have an opportunity to say whether or not it favors the investigation requested.

Kentucky Crop Report Issued.

Commissioner of Agriculture M. C. Rankin has issued the November crop report which is as follows:

"The weather during the month of November was cold and dry. There have been a number of reports of the dry weather causing the wheat and rye not to germinate well. There was quite a good deal of late seeding. There is little acreage of rye sown in the state."

"There seem to be quite a good deal of rotten corn, especially in the Western part of the State. Many farmers say that this has been the best fall for gathering corn in years, the dry, cool weather being the ideal weather for it."

"A number of counties report the need of rain for fall pasture and wheat and rye. Some splendid yields of corn have been reported; from sixty to eighty bushels per acre but taking the whole state the yield is 27 bushels per acre. In some sections of the State the crop was short."

"There is not a large acreage of alfalfa grown in the state. Some counties report an increased acreage."

BULB PLANTING

All during October is the great bulb planting time. Many kinds can be set later, especially the lilies, and some gardeners have been known to set out the Christmas bulbs after flowering or to break the ground after hard freezing when a thaw sets in in January, but this late planting is not advised.

If you cannot get bulbs until late—and lilies of the valley and many hardy lilies are not to be had until late November—keep the ground free from freezing by covering with four or five inches of litter or leaves. This will work better if coarse bagging is first spread over the ground.

Bulbs can go in most soils, but a rich sandy loam is best. There must be no fresh manure or the bulbs will rot. It is a good plan in an old garden to put a little sand in the bottom of the hole dug for the bulb to rest on.

See that the beds do not hold water. Round the tops so the rains drain off. Most beds after planting and the ground has frozen are benefited by a covering of rough manure, old leaves and evergreen boughs to keep it in place. If put on too early there is danger of mice. Remove gradually in the spring, but do not let the covering remain after growth is well started.

Bulbs may be planted in any way the grower desires. Set beds of the more formal sorts, as hyacinths, tulips and narcissus are showy even in small gardens. Dealers make a specialty of this planting and when the dimensions of the bed are given will tell the exact number and distance apart the bulbs must go. Oval, round, square, diamond and crescent shapes are popular, and fancy scroll designs are cut from the soil, with several rows of hyacinths or tulips set therein.

Coloring is a matter of taste, but care must be taken to select kinds that mature at the same time and are of similar heights. Hyacinths and tulips are sometimes combined, but look better separately. Beds of solid coloring are growing in favor.

In formal gardens and parks new bulbs are set in each fall; the old ones can be transplanted after the foliage has yellowed into the beds and borders and allowed to grow on until they deteriorate. Since bulbs are much cheaper than when they were fewer, growers dig up their hyacinths and tulips after ripening and dry them off for another year's planting. If the space in the beds is wanted for planting take up the bulbs and "heel-in" in some corner of the garden until the foliage yellows and the bulbs mature, when they can be dried and kept in a cool place until the following autumn.

If you do not know the definite depth of planting for different bulbs it is a good rule to cover with soil one and a half times their own depth. Hyacinth bulbs should be set from three to four inches below the surface and from six to ten inches apart. Tulips should go in six-inch holes and six inches apart.

In planting bulbs for bedding make the holes of equal depth or the blooms will be irregular. The holes can be made with a dibble or sharp-pointed stick; or for beds the top layer of soil can be lifted to the depth of seven inches, an inch of sand spread over it and the bulbs set the proper distance apart, then covered with soil to the surface of the bed.

Much easier than formal bedding is it to set bulbs in clumps or lines in the hardy border, especially if flowers are desired for cutting. Many of the smaller bulbous flowers, like snow-flanking are tritileas, chionodoxas, or "glory of the snow," make charming edgings for hardy borders either alone or combined in clumps.

A favorite method of bulb planting is to scatter through the lawn or to naturalize in out-of-the-way corners of the garden along the borders of streams and at the base of rocks. Scillas, crocus and snowdrops are especially adapted to lawn planting. There should be no stiffness in their setting. A good plan is to throw a handful of the bulbs and where they fall remove the sod, set the bulbs at proper distance and replace sod.

Another method of lawn planting is to have patches of color, as yellow in one place, white in another, blue in another and again purple. Besides the squills and crocus, other bulbous plants useful for this method of planting are tritileas, chionodoxas, winter aconites, Elwe's giant and king the snowdrops and spring colchicum.

Milking Regularly.

The habit of milking regularly should follow that of feeding regularly. It is a fact that many do not seem to comprehend that the milk should be taken at regular intervals. I have in mind a case where the man on whom devolved the duty of milking at regular intervals during an official test overslept and deferred the milking one hour, and the interruption broke up the regular flow of milk during the three succeeding days and caused the amount of butter fat to waver. One should keep in mind the fact that the well-developed dairy cow is an extremely sensitive animal.

FIVE WITNESSES MISSING

Valuable to State and Special Bailiff is Sent to Breathitt In Quest of Them.

The absence of five of the most important witnesses to the Commonwealth and the fact that Special Judge J. C. Carter of Monroe county, appointed by Governor Willson to sit in court during the illness of Judge Robert L. Stout, is unable to remain here longer than Saturday, caused the postponement of the trial of the Breathitt county murder cases pending in the Bourbon Circuit Court on a change of venue until Monday morning.

Judge Carter, who is the regular Judge of the Twenty-Ninth Circuit Court District, arrived in Paris Wednesday afternoon on the two o'clock interurban car from Lexington and conveyed court at three o'clock. Immediately after taking the oath, which was administered by Circuit Clerk W. H. Webb, he called the case of the Commonwealth vs. John and Thomas Davidson, Hacker Combs and Jason Deaton charged with the murder of John Abner, a Breathitt county feudist, in Jackson last June. The defendants were in court and answered to the call.

Commonwealth's Attorney Robert B. Franklin addressed the court stating that he had been advised as to the length of time in which it would be possible for the presiding judge to sit in the case, and that in view of the number of witnesses to be examined and the time necessary in selecting the jury it would be impossible to complete the case under a week's time, and to avoid any possibility of a technical flaw that would result in a mistrial he asked that the court reassign the case to another date during the present term of court, or continue it until the March term.

A. H. Paton, of counsel for the defense, thought that the Commonwealth should state its purpose and willingness for a trial at this term, and before the court should take any action in the matter it should be ascertained whether or not it would be possible to get the State's witnesses here.

This was followed by a call of the Commonwealth's witnesses and twenty-five of the number answered to their names. Assistant Prosecuting Attorney A. Floyd Byrd stated to the court that out of the number of Commonwealth witnesses summoned who failed to appear there were five of the number of the greatest importance to the State. These witnesses he said resided in or near Jackson and that, with the compulsory processes of the court invoked and a special bailiff appointed to secure their presence he felt sure it would be possible to proceed with the trial Monday. Judge Carter then assigned the cases for trial Monday morning and had all the witnesses both for the Commonwealth and defense recognized in the sum of $100 each for their appearance.

A special bailiff was appointed by the court and armed with subpoenas and bench warrants he left for Breathitt county to serve the processes of the court. About fifty witnesses from Breathitt, Magoffin, Lee and other mountain counties were in town Wednesday, a number of them returning to their homes after the case had been reassigned, to return for the trial Monday.

Behind the prosecution of the defendants is former Sheriff Ed Callahan, a personal and political friend of Judge James Hargis. The prosecution maintains that not only was John Abner killed for the part he took in politics in Breathitt county, but also John Wesley Turner, jailer of Breathitt, who was killed on the streets of Jackson on the night of November 8 by Jake Noble and the murderer Matt Crawford, a distiller and prominent politician was also a result of the plot that had been devised to gain control of politics in that county.

The defendants express themselves as being eager and anxious for a trial to establish their innocence. They declare they have never been implicated in any of the feudal troubles in Breathitt county and have never been summoned in any of the trials.

Judge Stout, having ruled at the time the cases were docketed for trial in the Bourbon Circuit Court, that the Commonwealth was not required to disclose the identity of a number of new witnesses whom it was sought to subpoena, credence was given the report that friends of the defendants pilfered the subpoenas from the office of the Sheriff of Breathitt county in order to ascertain who the witnesses were and what they knew concerning the facts relative to the murder.

Friends of the defendants state that such a report was woven out of whole cloth, and that when the news became known that the subpoenas had been stolen attorneys for the defendants volunteered the names of the witnesses so that new subpoenas would be issued and that nothing might occur in the serving of the processes of the court that would cause a postponement of the trial.

The friends of the defendants say that they are divided in their political opinions, and that nearly all of them in the election for judicial offices in the Breathitt district opposed Judge J. P. Adams, who is their leading attorney in the trials now about to be called.

Yesterday Special Judge Carter called the equity docket and the trial of the case of A. T. Wright vs. A. H. Broomhall was entered. The case consumed the entire day and was not completed when court adjourned yesterday afternoon.

Today the criminal docket will be resumed and the case of the Commonwealth vs. Raymond Straight, colored, under indictment for petit larceny and the cases of the Commonwealth vs. Chas. Smith and May Belle Hawkins, also colored, indicted for grand larceny.

DEATHS.

—Mrs. Sadie Davis Dundon, wife of Judge Denis Dundon, died at her home on Houston avenue shortly before 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, aged 35 years. Mrs. Dundon had been ill for more than a year and during the summer months recuperated at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lexington.

Her health seemed to return and upon her arrival home in October she was able to go about and take a drive about the city. She again grew worse and for the past ten days her condition was critical. It was thought Monday night that she could live but a few hours and she passed away as if falling asleep.

Mrs. Dundon was the daughter of the late James T. Davis and was a member of the Presbyterian church. She is survived by her husband and one little daughter, Miss Virginia Dundon, her mother, Mrs. James T. Davis, and two brothers, Mr. Walter Davis and Mr. George Cooper Davis.

The funeral services took place at the residence on Houston avenue yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, by Rev. Dr. F. J. Cheek of Danville, assisted by Rev. Dr. B. M. Shive. Burial in the Paris cemetery. The pallbearers were Owen L. Davis, Wallace Mitchell, Charles B. Mitchell, David D. Cline, Dr. Frank Fithian and James McClure.

—Mr. Hume Clay of Clark county, was found dead in the bathroom of his home, a few miles from Winchester Tuesday afternoon about six o'clock, by his wife. His death was due to heart failure from which he has been suffering for the past year.

He had been out on his farm most of the day and returning in the evening went to the bathroom where he was found by his wife lying dead on the floor a few minutes later. Mr. Clay was forty-eight years of age.

The news of Mr. Clay's sudden death was received here Tuesday night and came as a shock to the people of this community where he formerly resided. He was a son of the late John Clay and a brother of Mr. Harry B. Clay and Mr. Frank Clay, both of Paris. He was prominent as a farmer and live stock dealer.

He is survived by his wife, who was formerly Miss Mattie Neal of Little Rock, Bourbon county, and four children, Masters Neal, McClure and Matthew D. Clay, and Mr. James Clay and Miss Laura Clay, the two latter residing in Lexington.

The funeral services were held at the grave in the Paris cemetery yesterday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock, conducted by Elder Carey E. Morgan of the Christian church. The pallbearers were Hume Clay, James McClure, W. W. Mitchell, O. S. Johnson, Leonidas Neal, Sidney G. Clay, W. B. Crouch and Ben Woodford.

—After an illness of several weeks Mrs. A. H. Shropshire died at her home in Lexington Tuesday night. She was the wife of the late A. H. Shropshire and was a trustee of the College of the Bible of Transylvania University. Mrs. Shropshire has many relatives in Bourbon.

—After an illness extending over a period of several months, Mr. A. C. Adair died in this city yesterday about noon. For the past three years he has been in declining health, and about five weeks ago his condition became suddenly worse, confining him to his bed. He grew weaker and for more than two weeks his life has been despaired of.

Mr. Adair, who was in the fifty-fourth year of his age, was one of the best known and highly esteemed citizens of this community. He was known as one of the foremost telegraph operators in the State, holding the position as local manager of the Western Union office in this city for thirty-six years, until three years ago his declining health forced him to give up his position. He was City Clerk of the city of Paris, a position he held at the time of his death, and had served in this capacity for twelve years.

Prominent in fraternal circles Mr. Adair was a member of the Masonic order, the Odd Fellows, Elks and Knights of Pythias. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary B. Adair of Mt. Sterling, two sons, Bruce Adair of this city, and Chas. Adair of Cincinnati, all of whom were at his bedside when the end came. One sister, Mrs. W. H. Apperson, of Mt. Sterling, also survives.

The funeral services will be held at the residence of his son, Bruce Adair, on Mt. Airy avenue, this afternoon at three o'clock, conducted by Elder Carey E. Morgan. Burial in the Paris cemetery. Services at the grave by the Masons and Knights of Pythias. The pallbearers will be: Honorary—Ed Nippert, Perry McCord, Swift Champ, Jos. Rion, E. H. Brannon, J. L. Earlywine. Active—Lee Stout, W. W. Mitchell, Phil Nippert, Jr., E. F. Clay, Jr., A. J. Winters, I. Wollstein.

—Mrs. Lucy Buckner died at the home of her son, Mr. W. T. Buckner, on the Harbords Creek pike, Wednesday night of the infirmities of old age. Mrs. Buckner, who was in the ninetieth year of her age, was a member of one of the pioneer families of Kentucky, being before her marriage to W. T. Buckner, Miss Lucy Woodford, daughter of Wm. and Mary Woodford, natives of Virginia, who came to Kentucky from Winsor, Carroll county, Va., and located in Woodford county in 1825.

Mrs. Buckner was one of the oldest and most highly esteemed women of the county. She was a member of the Presbyterian church and possessed a lovely Christian character. She is survived by one son, Mr. W. T. Buckner, with whom she spent her declining years.

The funeral services will be held at the grave in the Paris cemetery today at 12 o'clock. The funeral cortege will leave the residence of Mr. W. T. Buckner at ten o'clock. Services by Rev. Dr. B. M. Shive. The pallbearers will be Wm. P. Wornall, Walker Buckner, Sr., Aylette Buckner, Ben Woodford, Sr., Sam Clay, Jos. H. Croxton, Wm. B. Woodford, Dr. Silas Evans.

Saved From Awful Death.

How an appalling calamity in his family was prevented is told by A. D. McDonald of Fayetteville, N. C., R. F. D. No. 8. "My sister had consumption," he writes, "she was very thin and pale, had no appetite and seemed to grow weaker every day, as all remedies failed, till Dr. King's New Discovery was tried, and so completely cured her, that she has not been troubled with a cough since. Its the best medicine I ever saw or heard of." For coughs, colds, la-grippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhage, all bronchial trouble it has no equal. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer.

Judge Wyatt Buys Pendletonian.

Judge J. D. Wyatt, who was for some time engaged in the newspaper business in this city, late of the Evening Enquirer, but who more recently has been a promoter of excursion tours, has purchased the Falmouth Pendletonian from Joe R. Williams, who for several years has successfully conducted it. Associated with Judge Wyatt is Ernest Clark, County Judge of Pendleton, President of the Citizens Bank and one of the best known attorneys of the almost bar.

Discovering Woman's age.

We wonder what death the man will die, or what tortured life he will be caused to lead, who has just discovered the little "trick" by which a woman's age can be ascertained beyond a doubt—that is to say, while her health is normal. The only instrument required is an ordinary watch. The wrist of the lady whose age is in question is the tell-tale. For when you count her pulse, and it registers 69 beats per minute, you know that she is between twenty and twenty-five years old. During the next five years 71 beats go to the minute, and the "femme de trente ans" and over is entitled to 70 throbs. It is a pity the man of science who has established these facts is not more exact when dealing with the women of riper age, for, according to rumor and tradition, it is only after she is thirty that a woman begins to leave off having birthdays.

"Farmers Week" at State University.

During the first week in January, beginning the third and lasting through the sixth, the Agricultural College of the State University at Lexington, has arranged to observe "Farmers Week." This will be the best opportunity ever offered for farmers and stockmen of the state to avail themselves of the benefit of the Agricultural College. The swine, beef cattle, horse, dairy cattle and sheep breeders' associations of the state will hold their annual conventions there on successive days, each devoting half a day to speeches, business, etc., and the other half to judging work. The State Corn Growers' Association, the State Corn Show and Corn School will also be held at the college during the week. Liberal premiums are offered in the various classes in the corn show and equally liberal premiums for farm butter, creamery butter, farm milk and for cretified milk. The unexcelled stock of the College Farm and of the magnificent Elemendorf Farm will be freely used for the judging work, etc.

Rates of the fare plus twenty-five cents for the round trip has been secured over all roads. The best authorities in the country on the various classes of stock, etc., have been secured for the week. All is absolutely free. A pleasanter or more profitable week could not possibly be arranged. Particulars, premium lists, etc., may be obtained by dropping a card to M. A. Scovell, Director, Lexington, Ky.

Ends Winter's Troubles.

To many, winter is a season of trouble. The frost bitten toes and fingers, chapped hands and lips, chilblains, cold sores, red and rough skins, prove this. But such troubles fly before Bucklen's Arnica Salve. A trial convinces. Greatest healer of burns, boils, piles, cuts, sores, eczema and sprains. Only 25c at Oberdorfer's.

Women for Jury.

Putting women on juries that hear divorce cases was a suggestion made recently by Cecil Chapman, Tower bridge police court magistrate of London, to the English divorce commission that is trying to work out a problem for the divorce evil. He recommends that magistrates should have power to grant divorces to poor persons and thus save expenses.

Failed in Health

"My mother died six years ago," writes Miss Ruth Ward, of Jerseyville, Ill., "and left me to care for six children. I had never been strong; and this, with the shock of her death, was too much for me."

"I failed in health. I was tired all the time and did not want to go anywhere, nor care for company. I had the headache all the time and such bearing-down pains. A very dear friend advised me to take Cardui, as it had done her so much good, so I commenced to use it and now I am in good health."

For thirty years J. F. Boyer of Fertile, Mo., needed help and couldn't find it. That's why he wants to be p someone now. Where His Interest Lay.

It was at a ball game between Chicago and Pittsburg. The score was tied, two men were out, a runner was on third and Hans Wagner was at bat! The crowd was too excited to be noisy, says Lippincott's Magazine. A sporting editor had taken his neighbor to the game. The neighbor was not a fan, but he had succumbed to the delights of "traveling on a pass" and was having a real, garrulous, good time. At the moment when there wasn't a heart beating on the bleachers, and the grand standers were nauseated with suspense, the sporting editor's neighbor emitted this: "Look, Jake! Look at that coke train! Did you ever see one engine pulling so many cars? I'm gonna count 'em!"

HEAVIEST IN MANY YEARS

SNOW BLOCKS THE STREETS

The heaviest snow in the history of Millersburg fell here Monday night, beginning about eight o'clock with a fine snow which continued about an hour. Later in the night the snow began falling hard and by seven o'clock Tuesday morning the ground was covered with a heavy white sheet to a depth of about sixteen inches. There was but little wind during the night hence the snow had drifted but little and the depth generally speaking was uniform.

It was almost impossible for the early pedestrian to plow his way through it and the cooks experienced great difficulty in going to their various homes. Shovels boys and men were at a premium and hard to get and had it not been for Messrs. D. E. Clark and Elda Collier with their improvised snow plough the work of cleaning streets and sidewalks would have been a much more difficult task. The idea originated with Mr. Clark, who with an ingenious arrangement began by opening a way to the depot. It was soon taken by Mr. Collier and between them the entire town was taken in, Clark going through the streets on the North part and Collier in the south.

The entire town desire to extend to these gentlemen a vote of thanks for the valuable service thus rendered. They have been the recipients of showers of compliments from everybody and are certainly heroes with the ladies.

The many friends of Judge Dundon here learned with sincere sorrow Wednesday morning of the death of his wife. It was generally known that Mrs. Dundon was in bad health but her real condition came as a shock to the community a few days ago. The entire community extend to him their heartfelt sympathy in this, his darkest hour of bereavement. Judge Dundon is an old Millersburg boy of whom we are all justly proud, and the sad death of his estimable wife is deeply felt among his scores of friends here.

A news dispatch from Washington Monday said: "The Kentucky delegation was well represented at the opening of Congress today. Senator Paynter entertained many Senatorial friends at his office, who called to extend greetings."

"The Senator also signed his first day of open house" by receiving a bride and groom from Kentucky. The bride couple were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. Alverson. Mr. Alverson married Miss Allen at Millersburg a few days ago."

—Mrs. G. W. Judy left Monday for Lexington where she will spend the winter.

—Mr. Joe W. Mock who has been confined to his home for several days with lagrippe is able to be out.

—The butcher shop of Wells & Tackett, beginning with next Sunday, will be closed on Sunday until April 1. Make your purchases on Saturday night.

—The Mission Study Class of the Presbyterian church did well with their bazaar on Thursday notwithstanding the fact that the ground was heavy with snow.

—Mr. O. R. Rankin sold last week to Mr. Jonas Weil of Lexington, for the European market 90 head of fat cattle, averaging 1,500 pounds at $6 per hundred.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Clarke, who expected to leave for Florida about December 6, have postponed their visit until February. Mr. Clark is being treated by Dr. Stacey, of Lexington, who does not think this is necessary at this time.

—A bazaar will be given by the young ladies of M. F. Saturday, December 10, beginning at two o'clock p. m. Fancy articles suitable for Christmas presents will be displayed. Oyster soup, coffee, chocolate, sandwiches and candy will be on sale by the Senior class.

—Amity Lodge F. & A. M., No. 40, in regular meeting Tuesday night transacted considerable business and wishes to call the attention of all members to the fact that the annual election will be held December 27. Don't forget this. All members are urgently requested to be present.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Sacsom entertained a number of their married friends Thursday evening from six to ten, the entertainment beginning with an elaborate six o'clock dinner consisting of several courses, after which cards were indulged in until the good-bys were said. They will entertain a number of their young friends Saturday evening.

—The City Council met in regular session Wednesday evening. After the routine business the board of supervisors for the ensuing year was named. They are Messrs. M. P. Collier, F. F. Hurst and D. P. Jones. Mr. E. M. Ingles was elected Councilman to succeed Postmaster U. S. C. Repper, who resigned several months ago. A license of $50 was placed on all installment houses and trading stamp groceries. The salaries of the city officers for the year were allowed and warrants drawn on the treasury for the same.
